HAPPILY MARRIED COUPLES: Ever wonder why the Church makes such a big deal about Marriage? Jesus performed His 1st miracle at Cana, even though it wasn't His time. Maybe the Church cares so much about marriage because Jesus does. Come find out more about God's plan for Joy, Romance and Love in YOUR marriage. You'll be glad you did! The next available WWME weekend in this diocese is February 17-19 at the Springhill Suites on Pensacola Beach. For information call (850) 994-9637 or go on-line at www.wwme.org

Thank You!

I would like to extend my sincere gratitude and thank you to those individuals who graciously helped with the Christmas decor. Without your help it wouldn't have happened: Delita and Delohn Wyatt; Teresa and David Norris; Suzanne Bell; Kevin Ostrye, son Nick and friend, Taylor; Maria Nolan; Nancy Stevens & mom, Ann; Mark Brown; Brooke, Madison and Cameron Searcy. And to the gentlemen on the construction crew who so graciously built us a tree box when all we asked for was a couple of blocks to elevate the middle tree...

Thank you cannot express my thoughts enough!
Penny Searcy.

Save the Date !

Representatives will be at our parish on Sunday, January 29th after the 11:00am Mass in the parish hall. There will be an informative presentation about Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School followed with questions and answers. Anne Ceasar, school president will lead the discussion. For more information or to schedule a visit and tour, call Mary Kelley, Public Relations Director at 277-7221, extension 32.

The Elijah Cup

Each weekend at Mass we will have our Elijah Cups in the vestibule for a family, individual, or couple to take home and put in a place of honor.

Each day for a week, during prayer time (morning, bedtime or at meals), they pray for an increase and perseverance of vocations. The following Sunday they return the Elijah Cup and it will be passed on to the next person.

Praying for vocations is the most powerful way to support vocations. A vocation is a call from the Holy Spirit, a gift from God that is nurtured in prayer. When we pray for vocations, we lift up to our Father those men and women who he is calling in a very special way. We hope that those who bring the cup home will continue to pray for vocations daily.

Please sign up today in the vestibule and be a part of this ministry.

25th Annual Memorial Service for the Unborn
Sunday, January 22, 2012
2:30pm

Greenwood Serenity Memorial Gardens
Please Join us.

The service will mark the 29th anniversary of the Roe V Wade Supreme Court Decision legalizing abortion in our country. The Memorial Service program will include representatives from local area churches and pro-life organizations. There will be singing and praise in thanksgiving for the wonderful gift of life and for the continued success of all who are praying and working for the well-being of the unborn, the aged and the handicapped.

Please pray for our youth who have traveled to Washington this weekend to participate in the Rally and March For Life.

The Word of God This Week

Set time aside each day this week with other members of your household, with other members of your parish or alone to listen to and reflect on the living Word of God. Use these passages from the Lectionary that are assigned for Liturgy this week. Reflect on how the Lord is inviting you to a deeper union with him.

TODAY

Jonah 3:1–5, 10
1 Corinthians 7:29–31
Mark 1:14–20

MONDAY*

Mark 3:22–30
"How can Satan cast out Satan?"

TUESDAY

Mark 3:31–35
"Here are my mother and my brothers."

WEDNESDAY* **

Mark 16:15–18
"Go into all the world and proclaim the good news . . ."

THURSDAY*

Mark 4:21–25
" . . . the measure you give will be the measure you get . . ."

FRIDAY

Mark 4:26–34
"With what can we compare the kingdom of God . . . ?"

SATURDAY

Mark 4:35–41
"Have you still no faith?"

*Alternate readings exist for this day.

Feast of the Conversion of Saint Paul the Apostle

Invitations to parties often include the letters RSVP at the end, which is a polite (and brief) way of saying, "please let us know whether or not you will attend." This Sunday's readings look at some of the ways God invites us to join in the divine party.

The story of Jonah is always fun to read. While his three days in the belly of the whale is what we remember most, we often forget that Jonah was in the whale because God wouldn't take "no" for an answer. That, of course, is the message of his preaching in Ninevah; people there believed that God would destroy the city. Which is harder to believe: that Jonah lived in a whale for three days or that the entire city of Ninevah immediately said "yes" to God's invitation to reform?

The reading from the Gospel of Mark is equally amazing. Imagine these four fishermen immediately walking away from their livelihood because Jesus made them a simple invitation: "Follow Me." Obviously, Peter and Andrew, and James and John, received an offer that they dared not refuse.

The Bible is filled with such invitations—stories where we are invited to do something simple for the Lord, like feeding the hungry, loving those who hate us, and taking up our cross. What is astounding is that so many people don't realize that these invitations are addressed to them. "Oh, I thought you were inviting someone else!"

But God's invitations don't work that way. You are invited, and God expects an RSVP from you. Will you accept the invitation?

The Faith of the Church

When God invites us to the divine banquet, he does so to give us something and to get a response. Our response to God is always an act of faith: we never know fully what God expects from us or what the end result will be, but we trust in his compassion and mercy and are filled with his grace (Cf. US Catholic Catechism for Adults, p 37).

Questions of the Week

One of the tasks Jesus gave to us as his disciples was for us to invite others to discipleship. Remember, people are more likely to participate in an activity or an event if personally invited by a friend or neighbor.

Adults

What can I do this week to invite a friend or neighbor to follow Christ?

Children

What can I do this week to help a friend or classmate feel invited to follow Christ?

Responding to God's Word . . .

TV evangelists preach a "Gospel of Prosperity": Accept Jesus into your life, and you will know unlimited happiness, wealth, and prosperity.

While being a disciple of Jesus offers joys and blessings beyond imagination, Catholics also recognize that suffering and grief are part of life and part of being a disciple of Christ.

Jesus invited us to pick up our cross and follow him (Mt 10:38), to take his yoke upon our shoulders (Mt 11:29–30). He didn't promise life would be easy, only that he would always be with us and help us carry our burdens.

Saint Theresa of Avila, commenting on the challenges that come with God's invitation, once said to God, "If this is how you treat your friends, it is no wonder you have so few of them!"

God's invitation is persistent, as Jonah quickly learned. While God allows us to freely say "no" to his invitation, he never gives up on us; he never stops inviting us.

As Francis Thompson wrote in his poem "The Hound of Heaven," God seeks us unceasingly, refusing to take "no" for an answer, never giving up until we are captured by divine love.

This is the invitation that our God has for us.

Meditation Moment

John Henry Newman went to Rome to discern if Jesus was calling him to follow him as a Roman Catholic. One day on the return voyage he prayed, "Lead me, O Lord! . . . I cannot see the way. . . . Lead, kindly Light." The words brought such peace to him that he took a pencil and began to write. When he finished, he had written the lyrics to the famous hymn "Lead, Kindly Light." Upon his return to England, he entered the Catholic Church and became one of its greatest leaders.

For reflection . . .

Can I recall a time when, Like Newman, I placed all of my trust in Jesus to lead me through a night of darkness?

LEAD, KINDLY LIGHT . . . / THE NIGHT IS DARK, AND I AM FAR FROM HOME; / LEAD THOU ME ON . . . / I DO NOT ASK TO SEE / THE DISTANT SCENE—ONE STEP ENOUGH FOR ME.

JOHN HENRY NEWMAN

FROM MISSION BY MARK LINK, SJ

An Invitation to the Feast

Lord, Jesus,
Thank you for inviting me to join in your banquet of love, the Eucharist. I accept your invitation. Help me to be worthy of this wonderful gift.
Thank you for the invitation to discipleship, which I also accept willingly. Help me to take up your cross and to live my life in service to all who need my assistance. Thank you for your invitation to be a witness to you in all I do and say and am. With your love and support, may I be a faithful witness with my life.
Amen.

Carry this thought in your heart as a guide for your faith journey this week.

And the people of Nineveh believed God; they proclaimed a fast, and everyone, great and small, put on sackcloth. When God saw . . . how they turned from their evil ways, God changed his mind . . .

Jonah 3:5, 10

SUGGESTIONS

Use one of these suggestions or one of your own to respond to God's Word this week.

In the home. Invite family members to join you in a spiritual activity. Consider attending Sunday Mass together, saying grace before and after each meal, gathering to pray the Rosary, or working together to feed the hungry.

In the workplace or in school. Look for ways to invite coworkers and classmates to join you in following Christ. Offer an invitation to join your prayer group, to work on a project to house the homeless, or to attend Mass with you.

In the community. Promote your faith in God in everything you do. Be a living witness to the joy and benefits of accepting God's invitation.

Profile in Faith

Teresa of Avila

Teresa of Avila (1515–1582) was a Carmelite sister who reformed her community and the Church.

Pope Paul VI declared her a Doctor of the Church because of her writings on theology, contemplation, and prayer, and because of the witness she provides on what it means to accept God's invitation to divine love.
